Evidence - Based Model for Evaluation of Radicalisation Prevention and Mitigation

Deliverable No. 7.6

D7.6 Final Dissemination Report

September 2024 (M37)

Authors: Michela Cohen (DBL), Linda Portoghesi (DBL)

Abstract:

This deliverable reports the INDEED Communication and Dissemination (C&D) activities and results, outlining the specific channels, tools, and techniques used to maximise impact and engagement with INDEED's stakeholders.

This project has received funding by the European Union's
Horizon 2020 research and innovation programme
H2020-SU-SEC-2020 under grant agreement no 101021701

1. INDEED Project Overview

INDEED aims to strengthen the knowledge, capabilities and skills of PVE/CVE and De-radicalisation first-line practitioners and policy makers in designing, planning, implementation and in evaluating initiatives in the field, based on evidence-based approach. INDEED, builds from the state-of-the-art, utilising the scientific and practical strengths of recent activities – enhancing them with complementary features to drive advancements and curb a growing rise of radical views and violent behaviour threatening security.

The INDEED methodological framework is based on the '5I' approach i.e., 5 project phases: Identify; Involve; Innovate; Implement; Impact. At the core of INDEED's work methodology is an interdisciplinary and participatory approach, which includes the co-creation of individual project phases and implementing them with the close engagement of multi-sectoral stakeholders. The creation of SMART Hubs (Stakeholder Multisectoral Anti-Radicalisation Teams) as part of INDEED is intended to facilitate this process.

The selected results of the project are:

1. The Universal Evidence-Based Model (EBEM) for evaluation of radicalisation prevention and mitigation.
2. A practical EBEM-based Evaluation Tool.
3. A collection of user-friendly repositories (repository of risk and protective factors, repository of evaluations and evidence-based practices) for practical use by practitioners and policy makers.
4. Targeted curricula and trainings (onsite /online).
5. Lessons Learnt and Policy recommendations.

All results will be integrated and openly accessible in the INDEED multilingual Toolkit for practitioners and policy makers in the field for the entire lifecycle of PVE/CVE and De-radicalisation initiatives, from design to evaluation.

INDEED promotes the EU's values and principles; heeding multi-agency and cross-sectoral methods, including gender mainstreaming, societal dimensions and fundamental rights.

2. Overview of WP7

Work Package 7 - Dissemination, Communication & Exploitation - aims to ensure visibility of the project and awareness about its outcomes at local, regional, national and European level and across all groups of relevant practitioners, policy makers and stakeholders.

To do this, WP7 will have to make project results available to the interested practitioners, policy makers and key decision makers involved in security threat prevention, with particular attention to the area of PVE / CVE / De-radicalisation, thus stimulating practitioners' community participation at all levels.

Important would be to link the project and to interact with other related EU funded research projects, international and national initiatives implemented by MS (including these supported or recommended by the Radicalisation Awareness Network (RAN), the European Crime Prevention Network (EUCPN) and the European Forum for Urban Security (EFUS)), to support the exploitation of the project's results and thus to contribute to sustainable progress in the domain of PVE / CVE / De-radicalisation, and potentially in the prevention of other security threats other than radicalisation.

3. Executive Summary

This deliverable aims to present the communication and dissemination activities that were carried out during the INDEED project implementation.

The leader of WP7 - INDEED Dissemination, Communication and Exploitation - Deep Blue (DBL) is responsible for the overall management and support of the communication and dissemination activities of the INDEED project as well as for the development of the tools and materials to be used during the project.

All partners were encouraged to be actively involved in the implementation of the dissemination and communication actions and were highly committed to ensure a satisfactory dissemination of the project's results.

The INDEED Project communication & Dissemination activities were characterised by the following main actions which this document will outline:

- Branding
- Dissemination materials
- Dissemination channels
- Social Media channels
- Social Media Best Practices
- Official website
- Newsletters
- Press releases
- INDEED events, workshops, and webinars
- Participation in external events and meetings
- INDEED Dissemination activities by externals
- Synergies
- Scientific Publications and conference papers

4. Branding

The brand and visual identity were designed and developed in order to ensure a consistent presentation and to strengthen the visibility of the project and its activities.

It includes:

- Colour palette
- Fonts
- INDEED logo
- Alternative logo layouts
- Graphical elements
- Photographs

The logos are part of the recognisable project identity that helps increase awareness about the project. The use of the logo has been applied to all the dissemination & communication materials that were distributed and exposed at project events and circulated among partners and relevant stakeholders.

A version adapted for the social media channels was also designed.

5. Dissemination Materials

Promotional materials were designed to better reflect the tangible assets and outputs of the project. The first set of dissemination material has been designed and produced between M3 and M4 (November-December 2021) by DBL. Then, at M18 and in the following months, it has been updated and includes the following elements:

- QR Code
- Deliverable template
- Agenda template
- MoM template
- PowerPoint template
- Letterhead paper
- Event report
- Roll-up
- Leaflets
- Poster
- Results booklet
- Photo booth
- Gadgets
- INDEED general presentation
- Social media banners
- Social media cards
- Event kit
- Background template for video interviews
- Customised templates to support other WPs' outcomes
- Promotional videos

The materials have been created for both online and live promotional distribution, as well as for the preparation of official documents and for internal meetings. The creation of the materials has seen a participative decisional process: in fact, all partners have been asked to choose between two options created by DBL for each material, so as to select the most suitable one for the project. The material (excluding the logos and the icon) is provided with the European emblem (flag) to acknowledge the support received by the European Union. The emblem is associated with the sentence "This project has received funding from the European Union's Horizon 2020 Research and Innovation Program under grant agreement No. 101021701". Below are presented the dissemination materials developed to be used for the project dissemination.

5.1. QR CODE

Customised QR (Quick Response) codes have been created and included in the INDEED D&C materials, such as leaflets, roll-ups, agendas, and even social media cards. QR codes are scannable using smartphone devices, thus allowing interested stakeholders to reach the INDEED website faster.

The QR code is present in the project roll-up and in the brochure, and has been implemented in other dissemination material, such as the leaflet and the gadgets. Two different versions of the QR code have been created, one with the logo and one without, in the different project colour palette.

5.2. DELIVERABLE TEMPLATE

This template was used only for submitting official deliverables. The document includes specific formatting and instructions that shall be followed. The template presents the following structure:

1. The front page of the deliverable includes:
  - a. A section for the official document title
  - b. The document identifier (i.e., number of deliverable)

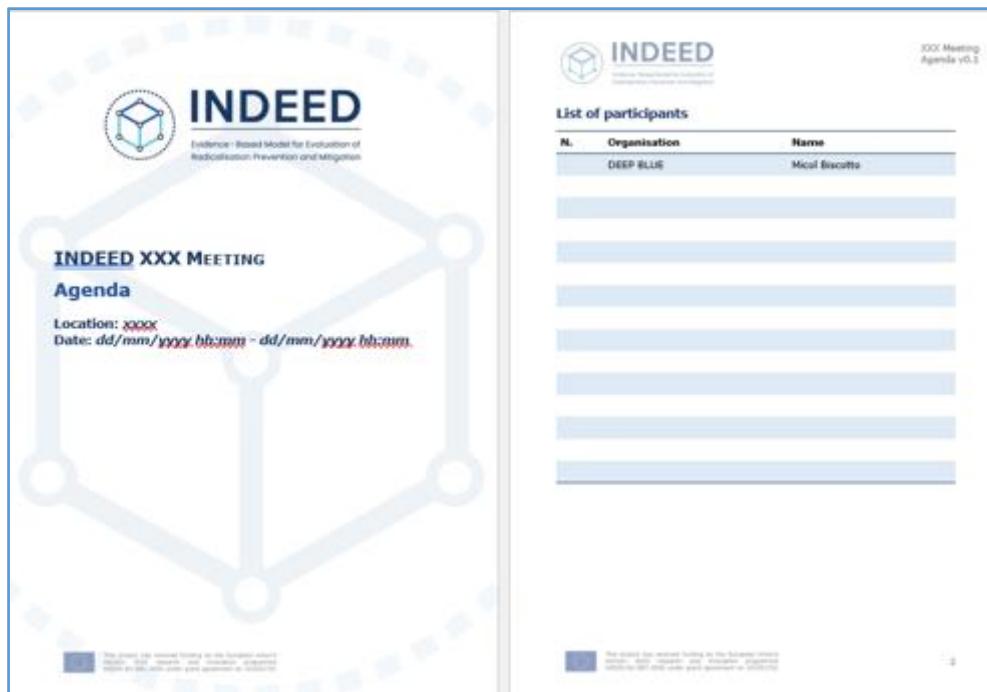

- c. The due date and delivery date of the deliverable
- d. The dissemination level (i.e., public or confidential)
- e. Authors
- f. Information about the project
2. A section for tracking contributions and revisions which includes the revision history (including a reference to the document's version, date, author/organisation and modification).
3. A section for the table of contents page developed with an automatic index.
4. The rest of the sections of the document include the respective title and subtitles, bullet points, tables and figures.

5.3. AGENDA TEMPLATE

This template was used to circulate the agenda in the context of internal and external events and project meetings. The document includes specific formatting and instructions that shall be followed. The agenda was provided to partners who used and adapted it by themselves for their national and local events.

The agenda template is titled 'INDEED XXX MEETING' and 'Agenda'. It includes fields for 'Location: xxxxx' and 'Date: dd/mm/yyyy hh:mm - dd/mm/yyyy hh:mm'. The right side features a 'List of participants' table with columns for 'N.', 'Organisation', and 'Name', showing one entry: 'DEEP BLUE' and 'Micol Biscotto'. The template is version 0.3 and includes a note about funding from the European Union's Horizon 2020 research and innovation programme.

As shown in the image below the agenda was customised for specific dissemination events and made more graphically appealing (more information in the EVENT KIT paragraph).

The customised agenda is titled 'INDEED FINAL EVENT AND 2ND INTERNATIONAL POLICY & PRACTITIONERS FORUM' and 'Draft Agenda'. It shows a schedule for 'Day 1 | Wednesday 18th September 2024 (15:30-20:00 CEST)'. The agenda includes 'Welcome to the INDEED Final Event & opening remarks', 'Networking & connecting in our field', and 'Networking, exchanging thoughts and reflections'. The background features a photograph of a city skyline at sunset.

5.4. MOM TEMPLATE

This template was created to take notes during project meetings and official events and included the participant list, meeting agenda, topics discussed and follow-up actions.

5.5. POWERPOINT TEMPLATE

The PowerPoint template was used for internal purposes such as consortium meetings and for external purposes such as workshops and events. The template follows the visual identity of the project and includes different slides to be used for different types of content (i.e., free text, bullet points, table, figures/images, etc.).

For specific dissemination events, the presentation was customised to suit the graphic design of the event in question (more information in the EVENT KIT paragraph).

5.6. LETTERHEAD PAPER

A letterhead paper has been produced for taking notes in live meetings and events, as well as for printing documents relevant to the project (e.g., certificates of participation, official requests, invitations, etc.).

5.7. EVENT REPORT

INDEED Event Report (Figure 18) was designed and developed by PPHS to be used after events and meetings in order to collect all the relevant information to be disseminated.

The report served as a concise summary of the key outcomes from selected project-related events, designed to be accessible to our target audience. These summaries were derived from the meeting minutes, with the text streamlined for clarity and to ensure compliance with privacy regulations like GDPR. Some examples in the images below:

5.8. ROLL-UP

INDEED branded roll-up (Figure 21) was designed and developed to be used during events and meetings. The roll-up contains key information about the project and contacts.

5.9. LEAFLETS

A leaflet was designed in order to promote the INDEED project. The design has an attention-grabbing layout using the INDEED identity. The text is informative, clear and written in an easy-to-read font. The leaflet is an A4 leaflet folded to A5 (using the content of each page).

In addition, two other leaflets were designed: one to present INDEED's SMART (Stakeholder Multisectoral Anti- Radicalisation Teams) Hubs (Figure 26, Figure 27) and one to explain what exploitation is, and how it differentiates from communication and dissemination within the INDEED project (Figure 28, Figure 29, and Figure 30).

The INDEED Exploitation Guide leaflet was also created in order to explain what exploitation is, and how it differentiates from communication and dissemination within the INDEED project. The leaflet was distributed to all partners during the 5th General Assembly in Cluj-Napoca, Romania in October 2022 and also, it is available on the project website under Result tab and Dissemination Materials sub-tab HERE and below.

5.10. POSTER

The INDEED Poster has been produced to disseminate the project's results during the European Crime Prevention Conference held in Tallinn, Estonia from 17 to 18 April, 2024, where an exhibition booth was made available to the projects that wanted to showcase their posters. It contains details on the Digital Repository of Studies on Risk and Protective Factors, the Evaluation Tool, the SMART Hubs, the INDEED Toolkit, the Evidence-Based Evaluation Model, and the E-guidebooks. The poster was initially produced for this specific event, nevertheless it has also been showcased in later events.

5.11. RESULTS BOOKLET

The INDEED booklet has been produced to disseminate the project's results and key findings during a series of events, namely the EFUS' Security, Democracy & Cities Conference 2024, the European Crime Prevention Conference 2024, and the Policy recommendations workshop: The importance of evaluation for effective designing and evaluation of PVE / CVE / De-radicalisation initiatives. To provide a comprehensive overview of the project's extensive results, a detailed booklet has been chosen as the suitable graphic material. This booklet offers a more in-depth exploration of the project's findings than a traditional leaflet could accommodate. To enhance accessibility, QR codes have been included throughout the booklet. These codes direct the audience to online resources where they can have detailed information on specific results. It contains details on the Digital Repository of Studies on Risk and Protective Factors, the Evaluation Tool, the SMART Hubs, the INDEED Toolkit, the Evidence-Based Evaluation Model, the E-guidebooks, as well as the main deliverables and reports.

Identification and analysis of the scientific concepts and approaches to the evidence-based evaluation of initiatives on PVE/CVE/De-radicalisation

Report outlining identified, analysed, and recommended approaches, methods and tools for evidence-based evaluation coming from the area of PVE/CVE and De-radicalisation and other selected disciplines.

The report provides a multi-disciplinary review of the literature surrounding the term "evidence-based practice" (EBP) it undertakes a multi-disciplinary review of evaluation designs which outlines their key strengths and weaknesses, as well as their usage within the field of PVE/CVE/DeRad. Finally, the report introduces the term evidence-based evaluation (EBE) as "a process of planning and implementing evaluations which integrates available external evidence, professional expertise and stakeholder values, preferences and circumstances".

Digital Repository of Studies on Risk and Protective Factors

It provides an overview of the scientific research on factors which may facilitate (risk factors) or prevent (protective factors) processes of radicalisation. It facilitates the mapping of empirical studies and offers a tool to decision-makers/policy makers and first-line practitioners to support the process of designing, planning, implementing, and evaluating PVE/CVE and De-radicalisation initiatives.

The Evaluation Tool for practitioners and policy makers including testing and validation

The INDEED Toolkit is based on the Evidence-Based Evaluation-Model. It helps to plan and conduct evidence-based evaluations of PVE/CVE and De-radicalisation initiatives. It introduces what is needed to know about evaluation of all stages of the initiative's implementation. It is a practical and user-friendly guide of initiatives implemented in different sectors and countries. It offers recommendations for carrying out kinds of evaluations, such as more extensive formative, process, and outcome evaluation as well as more limited evaluations that focus on ad-hoc interventions and single cases.

Professional e-Guidebook for designing, planning, implementation and evaluation of PVE/CVE/De-radicalisation initiatives

The INDEED e-Guidebook 1 provides a concise introduction to the fundamentals of evaluation and what an evidence-based approach to evaluation means. It includes different evaluation designs, discusses relevant methods and provides guidance on when to do evaluations and who should do them. It includes a chapter on ethics and evaluation, as well as numerous examples of previous evaluations of PVE/CVE/DeRad initiatives. This e-guidebook is available in 10 different languages (English, Spanish, Romanian, Polish, Latvian, Italian, German, French, Greek and Bulgarian).

INDEED e-Guidebook 2 goes deeper into how to apply an evidence-based approach to evaluations. It provides guidelines for how to build evaluation into the initiative's implementation, and to give instructions for how to plan and implement an evidence-based evaluation. This includes further information on how to ensure the evaluation is conducted ethically. This e-guidebook is available in 10 different languages (English, Spanish, Romanian, Polish, Latvian, Italian, German, French, Greek and Bulgarian).

5.12. GADGETS

Branded gadgets have been designed and produced for the project promotion to be used and distributed to the participants at INDEED events. These include a notebook, a pen, and a badge with lace, a tote bag, a USB pen, a camera cover, a sticker, and a notebook dedicated to the Final Event. The elements present on the gadgets are:

- INDEED logo
- QR Code
- Extended acronym of the project

- Project website
- Funding acknowledgement
- Contacts

5.13. INDEED GENERAL PRESENTATION

The INDEED general presentation was produced in order to give a general overview of the project. The aim of this presentation is to support the partners when attending events, and also to have a consistent and harmonised communication of the project. The presentation includes the highlights, the consortium, the main results, the target groups, the Smart Hubs, the Work Package structure, the timeline, the toolkit, and the contacts.

5.14. SOCIAL MEDIA AND EMAIL BANNERS

Ad hoc social media banners were created by DBL to be posted on social media channels to promote various activities, such as events, workshops, newsletters, and so on, with the aim to have customised social media channels with a recognisable project identity. Each of the designed banners was produced in different formats and sizes to maximise the visualisation quality (each social media has recommended formats and sizes for images' visualisation). The banners were created in 4 dimensions optimised for email signature, Twitter, LinkedIn and YouTube.

5.15. SOCIAL MEDIA CARDS

Ad hoc social media cards were created in order to communicate and promote project activities, events, workshops, newsletters and more, on the INDEED social media channels. As shown in the following figures, the social media cards have been developed by DBL with different images and in editable formats so as to be modified according to the activity to be communicated. In addition, in order to disseminate relevant results, events, and activities, DBL has worked together with the other consortium partners to create ad hoc social media campaigns for each WP that have been promoted through specific social media campaigns on the project's social media channels (more details in the paragraph Social media best practices).

5.16. EVENT KIT

The event kit was created in order to have ad hoc communication materials for internal project events. This ensures that the communication of a specific event is made clearly recognisable to the audience. An example is the event kit created for the project's final event and forum, for which the following materials have been reworked with a different but coherent style:

- Save the date banner (social media, email signature, and website formats)
- Social media card
- Email signature banner
- Website banner
- Presentation template
- Agenda template
- Badge
- Background template for video interviews
- Sessions' carousel

The customised materials showcased a contemporary twist on the classic design aesthetic, featuring vibrant colours. This visually appealing approach enhanced their promotional effectiveness and increased audience engagement.

5.17. BACKGROUND TEMPLATE FOR VIDEO INTERVIEWS

This template was created to be used in video interviews made during the project lifetime. The background follows the identity of the project and has been made editable to adapt to the various events for which it has been used. It includes the event date and place, as well as the name and title of the interviewee(s).

The banners above illustrate two distinct designs, tailored for single and double interview scenarios. Furthermore, as previously noted, the background was customised for the INDEED final event and forum.

5.18. CUSTOMISED TEMPLATES TO SUPPORT OTHER WPS' OUTCOMES

Various types of templates and cards have been created to support other WPs' outcomes and events. Specifically, DBL has created a template to promote webinars on social media and on the project website events sections (Figure 65, Figure 66). Moreover, special materials have been created for events, such as the INDEED Policy Forum banners and speakers' cards to give prominence to participants and highlight their contribution with a quote (Figure 64, Figure 67).

Another special card has been created to promote the book "Preventing and Countering Violent Extremism and Radicalisation" produced within the INDEED project. The book will be available open access at ZENODO in November 2024.

5.19. PROMOTIONAL VIDEOS

A dissemination video was developed in order to disseminate the project outcomes, while also giving an overview of the project. The video includes infographics, key messages, and subtitles have been made available in ten languages to make it accessible to the largest audience possible. The promotional video was published on the project YouTube channel, here, and promoted through the website and social media.

Moreover, a video was produced in order to promote the INDEED network of geographical SMART Hubs (Stakeholder Multisectoral Anti-Radicalisation Teams), which brings together first-line practitioners, policy makers and representatives of education and academia actively involved in designing, planning, implementation and evaluation of PVE/CVE and De-radicalisation initiatives such as policies and strategies, long term programmes, short term actions, ad hoc interventions. The video is available in the INDEED YouTube channel HERE.

Geographical SMART Hubs were established in all 15 countries represented in the consortium; each Hub has a Focal Point who is the first point of contact for stakeholders. The network of SMART Hubs enables INDEED's stakeholders to proactively be involved from the early phase of

INDEED to ensure a user-centred co-design of the project outcomes that will be of direct use and applicability by the various groups.

In addition, as shown below, a number of videos was created to promote various activities of the project, such as webinars, workshops, the INDEED Digital repository of studies on risk and protective factors, the INDEED Toolkit, trainings, interviews, Toolkit tutorials, and podcasts for a total of 79 videos published.

Specifically, for and during the training courses, interviews were organised with participants where they were asked to provide feedback on their experience and why it was important for them to participate in the training organised by INDEED.

Another type of strategy used was that of video announcements. These types of videos were developed in order to promote events by having a speaker inviting the audience and explaining the benefits, such as for the Training of Trainers and the INDEED Final event (Figure 74); as well as to promote new features and results, such as the INDEED Toolkit (Figure 76)

For many of these categories a playlist was created in order to group the videos better and allow the public to find the project materials more quickly. Specifically, playlists were created for: The first INDEED Forum recordings, the INDEED video interviews, the INDEED webinars and the INDEED evaluation podcasts.

Finally, on the occasion of the INDEED Final event and 2nd Forum, two videos were produced: one where four key speakers share the experience of their participation in the project and the importance of the event; and the other where Work Package and tasks leaders list and explain the project final results. Both videos include recording and footage from the event sessions and networking activities.

6. Dissemination channels

6.1 SOCIAL MEDIA

The official social network pages of the project were launched in parallel with the website launch, in November 2021 (M3).

The social media channels (Twitter, LinkedIn and YouTube) were chosen with the aim of reinforcing the visibility and the dissemination of results of the INDEED project. The different types of social networks used are appropriate to reach specific target groups, and likewise the content disseminated also depends on these groups.

It is worth mentioning that during the project lifetime, Twitter has changed name to X together with some of its features. For example, the analytics have become a premium feature available only through a paid subscription plan. The project has continued monitoring the analytics for as long as it was possible. After this implementation, although it was no longer possible to have a comprehensive overview, the number of post engagements have been retrieved through single posts analytics, which were still available with the basic subscription plan.

A table to monitor the social media performance has been created (Figure 80), in order to choose the best suited strategy to monitor engagement through impressions and link them to successful actions allowing us to replicate best practices. Specifically, the table shows that monthly impressions have been consistently well-performing and were particularly high during November 2023, March and April 2024 and from June to August 2024, when a great amount of posts was published as many events took place during those times (such as the INDEED 1st Policy and Practitioners Forum, webinars, and the INDEED Final Event and 2nd Policy and Practitioners Forum), as well as results, newsletters and activities to be promoted.

Together with the social media monitoring, the social media strategy and implementation included a detailed plan of all the posts that were to be published on all platforms. To do so, an excel file (Annex 1 - Post Plan Table and previewed below) has been created to keep track of every post published, including the date, the type of action, a short description of the source, the post text, and links to the published posts.

6.1.1 Twitter

The project Twitter profile can be found at <https://x.com/IndeedEUpoject> with the tag @IndeedEUpoject.

6.1.1.1 Goal

The INDEED Twitter account aimed at posting comments and news about the achievements and progress of the project and to promote project reports and participation in events.

6.1.1.2 Statistics

Overall, the monitoring table in Figure 83, showing the Twitter monthly performance, reveals that followers have been consistently increasing. At the same time, impressions have been well-performing during specific periods of time such as November 2023, March and September 2024 when INDEED conducted respectively the first International Policy and Practitioners Forum online, the INDEED on-site Training in Madrid, Spain and the INDEED Final Event and 2nd International Policy and Practitioners Forum in Warsaw, Poland, accompanied by a strong engagement on the social media channels thanks to the Live Tweeting. Nonetheless, they show a more or less constant good audience engagement.

The statistics of the INDEED Twitter account were available through Twitter Analytics, which showed a monthly summary of the account, including number of tweets, tweets impressions, profile visits, mentions, and followers. As mentioned above, during 2024 the analytics have become a premium feature available only through a paid subscription plan. Nevertheless, the number of post engagements have been retrieved through single posts analytics, which were still available with the basic subscription plan. By the end of the project in September 2024, the INDEED Twitter/X account has earned a total of 230 followers, compiling more than 50.000 impressions, which shows a very good engagement from the audience throughout the project lifetime.

6.1.2.2 Statistics

Overall, the monitoring table in Figure 89, showing the LinkedIn monthly performance, reveals that followers have been consistently increasing. At the same time, impressions have been well-performing during specific periods of time (e.g., March, April, July and September 2024), nonetheless they show a constant good audience engagement.

The statistics of the INDEED LinkedIn account are available through LinkedIn Analytics, which shows a summary of the account, including analytics about visitors, followers, and content. Over the last year the INDEED LinkedIn account earned a total of 110.000 impressions and 1.434 unique visitors, 69 posts and 123 reposts (Figure 90). Moreover, the metrics show that visitors land on the account mainly through their mobile, this information is relevant because it allowed us to conceive and create visual material and images that better suit this kind of support. Of interest are the peaks depicted. Specifically, the high visits registered during the month of November 2023 and March 2024 are due to a communication strategy, which is "Live Tweeting", adopted to engage and promote the International Policy and Practitioners Forum and the INDEED Training Courses, and that have produced a total of 82 posts combined (view section 6.1.4.1 for more details on the strategy). Figure 91 shows that the reached targets include individuals in the industries of public safety, government administration, NGOs, research services, and international affairs, thus in line with the above-mentioned goal.

6.1.3.1 Goal

YouTube was considered an essential promotional tool for INDEED. Assuming the possibility to upload videos up to 20GB and 15 minutes' length, we considered this web platform a perfect channel of dissemination that aims at reaching wider audiences.

6.1.3.2 Statistics

The statistics of the INDEED YouTube channel were available through YouTube Analytics, which show a summary of the account, including analytics about the content and the audience. Over its lifetime the INDEED YouTube channel earned a total of 2813 views with a watch time of 127,9 hours (as shown in Figure 95).

The analytics in Figure 95 show that the video published reached 61.400 impressions with an average view duration of 2:33 minutes. The highest view count on one day was reached on 19th July 2024 when the INDEED Video Interviews series was published in a dedicated playlist on the channel.

As shown in the above audience analytics, the audience metrics show that when new videos are published, new viewers land on the channel. This demonstrates a good engagement, particularly because of the cross-promotion through all our social media channels. At the same time, some viewers return to the channel when new videos are published, thus displaying audience affection.

6.1.4 Social media best practices

6.1.4.1 Live tweeting

On 24-25 May 2022 the INDEED Research Forum and Mini-Briefing for strategic stakeholders took place. During this occasion, the specific practice of live tweeting was used with the aim of telling in detail what was happening during the events, but also as a means of audience engagement. Specifically, the strategy produced a total of 54 posts (on Twitter and LinkedIn): 38 on the first day and 16 on the second. As shown in the Twitter and LinkedIn metrics in the above paragraphs, this strategy generated a great turnout of visitors and a high number of impressions.

It was very interesting to notice how external users and organisations who were not participating, thanks to the INDEED Live Tweeting, managed to grasp the salient points of the event. In the image below we can see a Tweet from a European project (CONNEKT) that followed the event remotely through real-time Tweets made by the INDEED project.

Since the strategy proved itself to be successful, it was replicated for various other events, such as: during the International Policy & Practitioners on 15 and 16 November 2023, with a total of 60 posts; the Training held in Madrid on 12 and 13 March 2024, with a total of 22 posts; various INDEED webinars and workshops, both online and on-site; and the INDEED Final event on 11-13 September 2024 for a total of 38 posts.

6.1.4.2 Social media campaigns

DBL has worked together with the other consortium partners to create ad hoc social media campaigns for each WP, in order to disseminate relevant results, achievements, and activities. The first social media campaign stemmed from Deliverable 1.2, submitted by WP1. It is composed of six social media cards that were posted every Monday. The visuals were produced by DBL, whereas the text by VUB. The cards, using a simple but appealing format, answer some questions and give definitions to key concepts of INDEED.

Below, the produced cards:

Following this first example, five other social media campaigns were produced on the following activities and results:

- Practitioners' and Policy Makers' Gaps and Requirements: three cards on the findings of WP2;
- Training & Learning Needs: six cards focused on the findings of D5.1;
- Gender, Ethical, Legal, and Societal Aspects: three cards focused on the findings of WP6;
- SMART Hubs: 15 cards spotlighting INDEED's SMART Hub national Focal Points;
- Tips for a successful evaluation: 9 carousels giving tips for a successful evidence-based evaluation

Some examples of the cards are given below:

6.1.5 Strategy

With regard to social media, DBL adopted some strategies (more details in Deliverable No. 7.2 The Final Communication and Dissemination Plan) that have turned out to be effective for audience involvement. The targets of these strategies were identified in a wide variety of policy makers, practitioners, researchers and relevant stakeholders involved in work connected with the project, specifically the actors directly involved in designing, planning, implementing and evaluating PVE/CVE and De-radicalisation initiatives and the teams responsible for analysing and measuring their success.

One of the strategies adopted was, for example, to prefer posting videos rather than pictures, as videos reveal themselves to be more engaging, and obtain more clicks and likes. One example are the videos published during the "INDEED Evidence Based Evaluation Model \(EBEM\) Co-Design workshop". For reference, below one of the videos is shown with its respective statistics. The analytics show that the video collected 474 total views, 937 impressions, 46 reactions, 3 reposts and 17 clicks. Overall, the video rated 7.04% of engagement.

Another example of strategy was to adopt a partner-centric approach. This means to involve their work in the project's social media publications, giving visibility to them and to relevant sources for the project. This strategy has been adopted when in an inspiring talk by one of the INDEED project partners from TRANSFORM, he shared his experience in helping people to get out of violent extremism groups and start a new life. The video has been shared through the social media platforms, as well as through the project newsletter (Figure below).

Furthermore, as it may be seen in the image below, the engagement in the LinkedIn post was very successful both in terms of likes and comments. For this reason, INDEED facilitated as much as possible this type of actions which help to better understand how the people involved in the INDEED project have an impact in the field.

Moreover, during the dissemination and communication activities, specific hashtags and tags were being used to attract the attention of stakeholders interested in the topics covered by INDEED.

Some examples of hashtags are listed below:

#Radicalisation, #evidencebasedapproach, #evaluation, #violentextremism, #deradicalisation, #crimeprevention, #preventivemeasures, #prevention #evaluationmodel #INDEEDproject #INDEEDFinalEvent

Some examples of relevant tags of entities and organisations dealing with issues similar to those of INDEED are listed below:

- CEPOL @EU_CEPOL
- International Centre for Counter-Terrorism @ICCT_TheHague
- Counter-Terrorism Strategic Communications @CTSC_Project
- RadRes @Radicalisation
- Hidayah @Hidayah_CVE

Tags corresponding to the partner organisations of the project were used to increase the visibility of the posts, as well as when partners are directly involved in specific activities, such as events, deliverables, and workshops.

Updated strategy

In addition to the insights gained from the first half of the project, we continued to prioritise a person-centred approach, ensuring that people remained the focal point of our social media content (more details in Deliverable No. 7.2 The Final Communication and Dissemination Plan). This approach involved sharing materials that highlighted individuals' voices and experiences. For instance, we posted interviews that featured key figures in the project, created social media cards with impactful quotes from partners and relevant stakeholders in the field (Figure 118), and designed speaker cards that introduced and showcased the participants of various events (Figure 119). By putting people at the forefront, we aimed to foster stronger connections and engagement with our audience, making the content more relatable and impactful.

Worth highlighting is the format of the carousel, which was used for the campaign on tips for a successful evaluation. This specific strategy for public engagement increases the time users spend interacting with the content, which boosts visibility through platform algorithms. Carousels also offer an opportunity to tell a more comprehensive story, providing flexibility to present a variety of content formats. By using each slide to emphasise key points, carousels reinforce the message and create a more compelling, organised experience for the audience.

Another strategy adopted was to share holiday cards during the festivities period in order to build a strong relationship and connection with the audience.

6.2 WEBSITE

The first version of the official website was launched in November 2021 (M3) at www.indeedproject.eu. The INDEED website is an ongoing activity, and its structure was changed during the lifespan of the project (36-months), when needed.

The INDEED website has an essential role in the project dissemination. It is the main point of reference where people can find information about project objectives, activities, and results.

Furthermore, the website offers a wide range of functionalities, including document download, information on events and links to other relevant websites.

DBL regularly updated it with public information about INDEED progress, news and any other relevant information. The website, supported by the social media profiles, creates a network that connects the broader possible group of stakeholders.

DBL paid attention to the usability and simplicity of the website, for this reason changes were made to facilitate the navigation of the website and the contents' comprehension. Specifically, the News & Events page was split into two different pages: News and Events. The information categorisation on the website follows a logical and significant criterion. Pages employ a simple layout with clear sections and texts. Moreover, to maximise INDEED impact, the website includes social networks and partners' websites.

The website is also compatible with mobiles and tablets devices, thanks to the different versions of the website we have the advantage of reaching the instant consumer, maximising the searchability of the project.

The INDEED website is structured (sitemap) as follows:

1. Home shows general information about the project, including the project description, the main results, the timeline and the button to subscribe to the newsletter.
2. About presents numbers, consortium composition and the advisory board members involved in the project.
3. Smart Hubs is a dedicated space for the creation of Stakeholder Multisectoral Anti-Radicalisation Teams.
4. Resources contains the public deliverables, the scientific publication and the dissemination products (from the annual reports to the brochures), ready for download.
5. Toolkit is a page that includes all the results produced within the project, such as the Evidence-Based Evaluation Model, Evaluation Tool, e-guidebooks, training package, policy recommendations and the Digital repository of studies on risk and protective factors.
6. News includes all the relevant news about the project, with the possibility to navigate the topics and the archive.
7. Events includes a calendar where past and future, internal and external dissemination events can be found.
8. Contact us provides the contacts to be used in case of need and a box for direct contacts.

Finally, on the bottom of each page the website shows direct links to the social media profiles (including a box with recent tweets), acknowledgement and contact details. These links to the social media profiles create a bridge between the website and the social media channels.

The Toolkit landing page has been graphically produced by DBL. The interface includes a dedicated menu header where all the links to the various results packages are included. Then, a set of swipeable banners show the latest results that were made available on the page. Each result is accessible through links that lead to the resources developed by ITTI.

Below, after a video and text introduction, a set of buttons guide the user through some of the main results:

The toolkit landing page has been replicated, including all the graphic materials, into 9 other languages, so that it is accessible in English, Italian, Polish, German, Spanish, French, Romanian, Latvian, Greek, and Bulgarian.

The news and events subpages, that were originally in one single page, have been differentiated in order to give better prominence to both the articles published and the events promoted. Specifically, the events section has been integrated with a calendar that shows both a list and a monthly view of all past and upcoming events, organised by the project and in which the project participated. The calendar has been continuously updated with an event card, a description, and promoted through social media.

The resources page contains all the materials available for download. Specifically, the public deliverables developed during the project lifespan, the scientific publications, and dissemination materials. The dissemination materials section contains a variety of materials that support the communication and dissemination activities of the project, such as the leaflets, the social media card campaigns, the newsletters, posters, booklet and the e-guidebooks.

6.2.1 Website Analytics

DBL has created the following table (Figure 127) where monthly website analytics were being collected through Google Analytics, in order to have a better understanding of how the website was performing. In particular, for every month since the publication of the website, the following data were inserted:

- Number of users;
- Number of sessions;
- Bounce rate;
- Session duration;
- Number of pageviews;
- Number of downloads.

As shown by the numbers, the different metrics illustrated a significant increase for each type. For example, the number of users has increasingly grown since November 2021, reaching a total of almost 12.000 users by August 2024. Noteworthy is the growth of the number of the dissemination material downloads, which have seen a significant and consistent increase each month reaching more than 7500 total downloads. The INDEED SMART Hub leaflet (Figure 128), the INDEED final event agenda (Figure 129), and the Deliverable 2.1 "SMART Hubs roadmap" (Figure 130), appear to be the three most downloaded dissemination material, respectively with 645, 321 and 295 downloads. This demonstrates that the possibility of downloading the material produced within the project is a well-performing strategy, and it will be further used to make the outcomes of the project available to the public. Moreover, the numbers show that the INDEED website gained a total of 31.200 pageviews.

6.3 NEWSLETTERS

The purpose of the INDEED newsletters was to raise awareness about the project and announce its latest news. The development of the INDEED newsletters required input from all consortium members. If needed partners were assigned as leader of specific sections. The ten newsletters were distributed on throughout the project on a quarterly basis.

As shown by the analytics above, the subscribers have been consistently growing, reaching 524 subscribers, as well as the opening rate that went from 31,82% to a range of 40-60%.

6.3.1 1st newsletter

The first newsletter, sent on the 7th of March 2022 to 23 recipients, presented the most meaningful activities carried out by the INDEED Consortium in the first six months. In this issue, there is information about the project tasks that bring our consortium closer to the preparation of solutions in the field of improving the evidence-based evaluation of initiatives designed, planned and implemented in the area of PVE / CVE and De-radicalisation. The newsletter has been sent by email to the subscribers and promoted on both our social media channels, and website free to download.

6.3.2 2nd newsletter

The second newsletter, sent on the 18th of July 2022 to 66 recipients, provided reports from project activities, announcements on hands-on webinars as well as the information about sister projects in the field of improving the evidence-based evaluation of initiatives designed, planned and implemented in the area of PVE / CVE and De-radicalisation. The newsletter has been sent by email to the subscribers and promoted on both our social media channels, and website free to download.

6.3.6 6th newsletter

The sixth newsletter was a special edition dedicated to the INDEED International Forum, which was made of 4 different newsletters. The first one, sent on 13 September 2023 to 123 recipients, was a Save the Date edition that informed readers about the upcoming INDEED International Forum on 15-16 November 2023. The newsletter has been sent by email to the subscribers and promoted on both our social media channels, and website free to download.

The second one, that was sent in November 2023, was the official initiation containing details about the sessions, the speakers and events partners. It also contained the link for registration.

The third one was sent the day before the start of the Forum and included the final numbers of the event (partners, sessions, speakers, agencies and participants) together with agenda available for download.

6.3.11 11th newsletter

The eleventh and final newsletter will be published in October and will contain the highlights from the Final event as well as the promotion of the project final results and will be sent to more than 520 subscribers.

6.4 PRESS RELEASES

The first INDEED press release was shared with the partners in October 2021. Specifically, the press release described the motivation behind the INDEED project, the aims of the project, and its targets. It was used by the consortium partners to create articles on their websites and, when requested, it was shared with external organisations who mentioned INDEED in their communication activities.

1. PRESS RELEASE No 1
Date: OCTOBER 2021

INDEED PROJECT: WORKING ON A MORE EFFICIENT EVIDENCE - BASED MODEL FOR EVALUATION OF RADICALISATION PREVENTION AND MITIGATION

INDEED is a project, funded by the European Commission, under the Horizon 2020 research and innovation programme (grant agreement no 101021701). The project aims at strengthening a comprehensive approach to preventing, mitigating and de-radicalising radicalisation, based on a universal evidence-based model for prevention of radicalisation.

Motivation Behind INDEED

Global and European radicalisation leading to violent extremism of individuals, with threats becoming more varied and increasingly cross-border as well as cross-sectorial in nature, has been at the forefront of analysis. The EU's counter-terrorism strategy, adopted in 2016, identifies the threat of radicalisation as a significant threat, both to internal security and, notably, to the right and left-wing extremist groups. Thus, this project, investigates an effective and well-synchronised strategy at the European level, to combat radicalisation. The INDEED project will develop a counter-radicalisation strategy to curb the growing rise of radical views and violent behaviour and ensure the safety and well-being of Europe and its citizens.

The INDEED consortium is convinced that striving to strengthen the role of the European Union in addressing the challenges of radicalisation requires the diagnosis of existing structures, as well as the identification of the need for competent and sustainable knowledge areas, as well as capacity building, enabling an ecosystem-based approach to all actions involved in dealing with radicalisation leading to terrorist or violent extremism. Consequently, action must be taken to ensure that the INDEED project will contribute to the prevention of violent and extremist violent extremism (PVE/CVE) and de-radicalisation approaches, as well as the evidence-based design of initiatives, bridging the gap between the EU Member States. Hence, INDEED.

THE INDEED Project Aims

The project aims to use evidence-based approaches to strengthen the practitioners' and policymakers' knowledge, capacities and skills

For designing, planning, implementing and evaluating PVE/CVE and de-radicalisation approaches, as well as policies and strategies, best-practice programmes, short-term actions and ad-hoc interventions, in an effective and proven manner.

The concept of INDEED is founded on a specific approach of participants, user-based design methodology, as well as a practical and evidence-based methodology, involving the use of the INDEED Evidence-Based Model for Evaluation of Radicalisation Prevention and Mitigation (EBER). The methodology is based on the '5E' approach - involving 5 project phases, namely Identity, Inquire, Innovate, Implement and Impact - to facilitate co-creation of the INDEED model. The INDEED model will be disseminated directly to a wide range of multi-sectoral stakeholders through SMART (Stakeholder Multi-level Anti-Radicalisation Toolkit).

For enhancing resilience against radicalisation, the tools that should be used are:

See the following the INDEED project will be:

1. The Universal Evidence-Based Model (EBER) for evaluation of radicalisation prevention and mitigation.
2. A practical EBER-based evaluation tool.
3. A practical EBER-based model for enhancing the effectiveness of radicalisation: Factors and pathways to radicalisation, factors strengthening resilience to radicalisation, requirements of evidence-based practices for practical use by practitioners and policy-makers.
4. Targeted capacity and training (ad-hoc/online).
5. Lessons learnt and policy recommendations.

To provide greater added value, special attention will be given to the gender dimension and to the ethical, legal, data protection and societal issues related to the project's activities.

Whilst the ambitions of INDEED are high, the solid network of partners makes the project and its goals achievable. The implementation of the project idea will be firmly based on the SMART approach, ensuring that the project will achieve greater internal security and reinforcement of a strong sense of the European Union's citizens' security.

OBJECTIVE or TARGET

This three-year project is funded by the European Commission under the Horizon 2020 research and innovation programme (grant agreement no 101021701). The INDEED project consortium consists of 13 organisations representing 13 European countries and is coordinated by the Polish Platform for International Security (PPiS), non-governmental organisation. The INDEED project will be implemented through training, dissemination and education via conferences, workshops, and other initiatives. INDEED has been involved in research and development projects, as

The second press release was shared with partners in May 2024. The press release focused on the launch of the INDEED Toolkit, going through the available results such as the Evidence-Based Model for Evaluation and the Digital Repository. When requested, it was shared with external organisations who mentioned INDEED in their communication activities.

The final press release is planned to be launched in first half of October 2024 and will promote the final project results available and developed by each WP and Task Leaders, specifically:

- Project Toolkit
- Evaluation Package
- Training Package and Learning Products
- Presentation of the Repository of Risk and Protective Factors
- Repository of Evaluations and Evidence-Based Initiatives
- Policy Corner
- Presentation of evaluation results
- GELSA
- Smart Hubs

7. INDEED EVENTS

The Consortium has been involved in 76 events: 1 practitioner's workshop, 1 Research Forum and 1 Strategic dissemination event "Mini-Briefing", 30 INDEED webinars, 14 national level workshops, 2 INDEED Policy and Practitioners Forums, 1 Final Event, in addition to the participation in 26 external events. All events were comprehensively promoted across the project's social media channels and showcased on the dedicated events section of our website. To further amplify outreach, we consistently distributed event invitations via our project newsletter to the entire mailing list. During each event, we captured key takeaways and shared them on social media. For online events, we ensured comprehensive coverage by recording and subsequently publishing sessions on our YouTube channel. Unified visual identity was maintained across all events through custom-designed banners and presentations, reinforcing the INDEED brand.

7.1 INTERNAL EVENTS

7.1.1 INDEED practitioner's workshop

The first face to face INDEED Practitioner's Workshop called "GAP ANALYSIS OF EVALUATION PRACTICES IN PVE/CVE/DE-RADICALISATION" took place on the 27th-29th of April 2022 in Athens, hosted by the Hellenic Police and KEMEA.

The focus of the workshop was on the identification of current initiatives and evaluation frameworks deployed in preventing violent extremism (PVE) and countering violent extremism (CVE) and De-radicalisation initiatives. Examples of initiatives included policies and strategies, programmes, actions, and interventions implemented by the consortium partners and external practitioners and policy makers.

The main aim of the workshop was to understand the advantages and limitations of current approaches to PVE/ CVE/ and De-radicalisation initiatives and how they are evaluated.

The workshop was attended by practitioners and policy makers from various sectors and jurisdictions. The workshop engaged with the experts to understand:

1. Which initiatives are currently implemented and how they are evaluated.
2. What would be the ideal outcomes from their initiatives; and
3. What are the potential barriers and limitations they are experiencing that inhibit the optimal process of evaluation.

Find HERE the report that outlines the key results of the workshop and highlights the gaps and solutions that were proposed by the participants/ stakeholders.

7.1.2 INDEED Research Forum

The INDEED Research Forum was organised on the 24th of May 2022 at the University Foundation in Brussels. The primary aim of the research forum was to organise a discussion between INDEED consortium partners and invited academic experts on evaluation and evidence-based practice, particularly in the field of PVE/CVE/De-radicalisation. The results of the forum contributed to the development of a report which reviews the literature surrounding the evidence-based movement and evaluation across academic disciplines.

The Research Forum brought together 10 invited academic experts from the fields of criminology, counter-terrorism, education, public health and political science with 15 members of the INDEED consortium, representing 10 of its partnering institutions. Invited experts were asked to prepare a 10-minute impulse statement on a set of prepared questions to kick off discussions in the forum's four thematic sessions.

An overview of the key finding is presented in the summary report available HERE.

7.2 INDEED PUBLIC WEBINARS, WORKSHOPS and FOCUS GROUPS

The webinars and workshops were dedicated to INDEED partners, as well as all first-line practitioners and policy makers dealing with the topic.

7.2.1 INDEED Designing Evidence-based Practice webinar

INDEED invited stakeholders dealing with PVE/CVE/De-radicalisation to attend the hands-on webinar on designing evidence-based practices in the form of a comprehensive long-term preventive programme, that took place on the 4th of July 2022. The webinar was held in English by Marzena Kordaczuk-Was, INDEED Project Coordinator.

The webinar initiated a series of webinars dedicated to the process of designing a comprehensive long-term preventive programme. Using the example of the educational programme to prevent radicalisation leading to discrimination and hate speech developed and piloted by the Polish Platform for Homeland Security, the step-by-step process of creation showed how, starting from the diagnosis of threat, one can go through the process of designing a programme based on the theory of change.

7.2.2 INDEED Evaluation-Tool and Training Requirements workshop

INDEED invited stakeholders dealing with PVE/CVE/De-radicalisation to attend the INDEED Evaluation-Tool and Training Requirements workshop, that took place on the 7th of July 2022 Online. During the workshop needs for practice were discussed and prioritised in order to be able to create and provide practice-oriented content in the next step.

The event was hosted online by the Bremen Ministry for Justice and Constitution.

7.2.3 INDEED Hands-on webinar on formulating standardised assumptions of preventive programme

The hands-on webinar on formulating standardised assumptions of preventive programmes took place on the 25th of July 2022. The webinar was held in English by Marzena Kordaczuk-Was, INDEED Project Coordinator.

The webinar was a follow-up to the 1st webinar on Designing of Evidence-Based Practice that took place on the 4th of July 2022. The second part described in detail the design of standardised elements of a long-term comprehensive prevention programme using material derived from a detailed diagnosis of the specific risk occurring in the local environment.

7.2.4 INDEED Webinar | Evaluating Evidence-based preventive programme

The webinar took place online on the 5th of September 2022 and was the last of a series of events dedicated to the designing process of evidence-based prevention practice. During this webinar, the process of designing, planning and conducting the evaluation of a long-term comprehensive preventive programme was discussed in detail.

The webinar allowed the participants to learn more about how to take care of formative evaluation in the form of a pilot programme implementation, as well as how to monitor the course of the proper implementation of the initiative (process evaluation). Moreover, complementing the full evaluation process, the event focused on the evaluation of the results of the implemented long-term programme.

7.2.5 INDEED Thematic Workshop on evaluation of educational long-term programmes

The INDEED Thematic Workshop on evaluation of educational long-term programmes took place online on 18 May 2023. The event was organised by the Polish Platform for Homeland Security (PPHS) focusing on improving evidence-based evaluation and evidence-based policy making and practice in PVE/CVE and De-radicalisation initiatives. During the workshop, the participants were asked to simulate the evaluation process in a guided discussion using the previously presented INDEED evidence-based evaluation model and initiative as a case in the discussion. The discussion benefited the development of an INDEED evaluation tool to help plan and conduct evidence-based evaluations of PVE/CVE/De-radicalisation initiatives. In addition, participants had the opportunity to share experiences, expertise and insights, and practises they may have on evaluation of long-term educational programmes, in particular in the field of PVE/CVE. Participants also exchanged on key lessons learned, recommendations for improving evaluation of such programmes, and the mechanisms contributing to evaluation with other stakeholders coming from similar sectors.

7.2.6 INDEED Policy Thematic Group Workshop

On the 2nd of May 2023, EFUS together with the University of Helsinki and PATRIR organised a workshop for policy-makers focusing on improving evidence-based evaluation and evidence-based policy making and practice in PVE/CVE and Deradicalisation initiatives. The workshop collected expert insights and recommendations on evaluation of policies and strategies (at different scales – national, local, regional and EU) targeted at prevention of violent extremism and radicalisation, from policy makers and experts in evaluation of PVE/CVE strategies. During this workshop, participants had the opportunity to share their experiences, expertise and insights, and practises they may have had on evaluation of PVE/CVE policy or a strategy. Participants also exchanged on key lessons learned, recommendations for improving evaluation of policies and strategies in the PVE/CVE field, and the mechanisms contributing to evaluation with other stakeholders coming from similar sectors. The discussion contributed to the development of the tool to help policy makers and first-line practitioners plan and conduct evidence-based evaluations of PVE/CVE policies, strategies and practices.

7.2.7 INDEED repository of studies on risk and protective factors webinar

The INDEED repository of studies on risk and protective factors webinar took place on April 12, 2024. The webinar provided an overview of the repository's key functions and discussed its potential to support an evidence-based approach to strengthening policy design, evaluation, and practice in the field of P/CVE and De-radicalization. The repository offers a comprehensive database of existing scientific studies on risk and protective factors for radicalization processes. Participants included practitioners, policy makers, researchers, and other stakeholders engaged in the field. The webinar featured presentations on the repository's background, purpose, and key functions, as well as panel discussions on how the repository can strengthen evidence-based approaches to evaluation, policy design, and policing. The repository was presented as a valuable tool for evidence-based evaluation, initiative design, and policing.

7.2.8 INDEED Webinar: Gender, Ethics and Societal Aspects of P/CVE Evaluation

The INDEED Webinar on "Gender, Ethics, and Societal Aspects of P/CVE Evaluation" took place on June 25, 2024, providing a comprehensive overview of the current knowledge and existing gaps in GELSA within the realm of Preventing/Counteracting Violent Extremism (P/CVE). The session delved into practical applications of GELSA in P/CVE work and evaluation, with a particular focus on integrating gender and societal perspectives. It also discussed the importance of addressing the needs and vulnerabilities of specific groups affected by radicalization (prevention), offering insights into more effective and inclusive evaluation methodologies. The webinar featured presentations from experts in the field, including Norbert Leonhardmair and Hannah Reiter from VICESSE, who discussed the GELSA gaps and challenges in PCVE, practical applications of GELSA, and effective evaluation methodologies. Gazbiah Sans, Director of PVE Works, shared her insights from a practitioner's perspective on the importance of addressing gender, ethical, and societal aspects in P/CVE and De-radicalisation programming and initiatives. The webinar also included participant working groups, where attendees applied GELSA to their own agencies, organisations, and contexts. A moderated Q&A session followed, allowing participants to ask questions and discuss the topics further.

7.2.9 INDEED Webinar: Evidence-based crime prevention: the EUCPN's role in an emerging field

The webinar on "Evidence-based crime prevention: the EUCPN's role in an emerging field" took place on June 24, 2024. During the webinar, Stijn Aerts, Coordinator of the Secretariat of the European Crime Prevention Network, reflected on the state of evidence-based crime prevention in the EU. He presented results from an EU-wide survey commissioned by the EUCPN, highlighting the main challenges faced by crime prevention practitioners in adopting evidence-based approaches.

Aerts also introduced the tools and services developed by the EUCPN to promote and support evidence-based prevention, such as a registry of effective interventions and trainings for practitioners and decision-makers. He discussed the lessons learned, successes, and failures of these initiatives.

7.2.10 INDEED Webinar: Research on the efficacy of the Family support programme and Exit programme in the Netherlands

The INDEED Webinar: Research on the efficacy of the Family support programme and Exit programme in the Netherlands took place on June 14, 2024. During the webinar, the Dutch National Support Center for Countering Violent Extremism and RadarAdvies presented key findings from qualitative evaluation research on their Exit and Family Support programs. The presenters offered specific recommendations and lessons learned, covering steps for preparing and conducting evaluations, as well as recommendations for effective collaboration between practitioners and evaluators. The webinar featured presentations from Amber van Suijlekom, Manager of the National Support Center for Extremism, and Maarten van de Donk and Fenna Keijzer, Senior Advisors at RadarAdvies.

7.2.11 INDEED Webinar: P/CVE Monitoring & Evaluation Centre of Excellence (ICCT)

The webinar "P/CVE Monitoring & Evaluation Centre of Excellence (ICCT)" took place on May 23, 2024. INDEED invited practitioners, policymakers, researchers, and stakeholders engaged in P/CVE and De-radicalisation to the webinar, which introduced the newly launched Monitoring and Evaluation (M&E) Centre of Excellence by the International Centre for Counter-Terrorism (ICCT). The International Centre for Counter-Terrorism (ICCT) launched its Monitoring and Evaluation (M&E) Centre of Excellence to advance evidence-based evaluation and decision-making in the field of Counter-Terrorism and Preventing and Countering Violent Extremism (CT and P/CVE). The webinar provided insights into the reasons for the Centre's establishment, its services, and its approach to connecting stakeholders for evidence-based decision-making. Aileen van Leeuwen, M&E Officer and Research Fellow, ICCT, and Dr. Antoine Baudon, Business Manager and Deputy Director, ICCT, discussed the Centre's vision, purpose, and its contributions to the field. They also explored how evidence-based evaluation can support evidence-based policymaking and practice. The webinar concluded with a discussion on applications to the field, involving participant questions and insights from Aileen van Leeuwen and Dr. Antoine Baudon.

7.2.12 INDEED Webinar: Introducing the INDEED tool for Evidence-based evaluation of PVE/CVE and De-radicalisation initiatives

The INDEED team hosted a webinar on May 20, 2024, to introduce the digital INDEED evidence-based evaluation tool. The webinar was open to practitioners, policymakers, researchers, and other stakeholders involved in the field of P/CVE and De-radicalization. During the webinar, participants were guided through the four interactive modules of the tool, learning how it could be used for planning and conducting evaluations at various stages of initiatives. The INDEED team also showcased the tool's technical features that support evaluation planning, designing, execution, and result utilisation. Ingrid Rasmussen from Finn Nørgaard Foreningen shared her experiences with using the INDEED tool, providing valuable insights into its practical application. The webinar concluded with a discussion on the tool's potential to support an evidence-based approach to evaluation and designing of P/CVE and De-radicalization initiatives.

7.2.13 Policy recommendations workshop: The importance of evaluation for effective designing and evaluation of PVE / CVE / De-radicalisation initiatives

The INDEED project organised a policy recommendations workshop on July 12, 2024, in Riga, Latvia, to focus on the importance of evidence-based design and evaluation for PVE/CVE/De-radicalization initiatives. The workshop brought together practitioners, policymakers, researchers, and other stakeholders involved in the field to present outcomes and lessons learned from the evidence-based evaluation planning process of selected initiatives within the INDEED project. The workshop aimed to formulate policy recommendations for the planning, designing, implementation, and evaluation of future PVE/CVE/De-radicalization initiatives, promote ongoing improvement in evaluation practices, and facilitate the exchange of knowledge and experiences among stakeholders. The policy recommendations generated during the workshop were integrated into a report titled "Lessons Learnt and Policy Recommendations from the Evidence-Based Evaluation Planning Process", which was made publicly available.

7.2.14 INDEED Webinar: Developing and Implementing Evaluation Support Tools

The webinar, "Developing and Implementing Evaluation Support Tools," took place on July 9, 2024. Organised in collaboration with the Global Public Policy Institute (GPPi) and PrEval, it aimed to discuss how to create effective evaluation tools to address capacity gaps and promote high-quality evaluation in the fields of extremism prevention, democracy promotion, and civic education. Sophie Ebbecke and Sarah Bressan presented findings and recommendations from a study conducted in 14 countries. The study revealed that actors in the field often lack the expertise, knowledge, and experience to commission, conduct, or support evaluations. To address this, the research team analysed good practices for developing effective evaluation capacity support tools. During the webinar, participants shared experiences with evaluation toolkits, guides, training, networks, and other support tools. Professor Adrian Cherney from the University of Queensland shared his experiences developing toolkits and a P/CVE evaluation training in Australia. The webinar was part of the PrEval project, funded by the German Ministry of the Interior, which focuses on strengthening P/CVE evaluation and quality assurance.

7.2.15 INDEED Focus Group Meeting: On-line repository of Studies on Risk and Protective Factors

The INDEED Focus Group Meeting on the online repository of Studies on Risk and Protective Factors took place on July 8, 2024. This online event aimed to address the ethical, legal, and societal acceptance of INDEED's results. The meeting highlighted the crucial role of ethics in all project results, focusing on legal practitioners and policy stakeholders in the field of P/CVE and De-radicalization. It brought together experts and evaluators to assess INDEED's achievements and products.

The meeting's purpose was to clearly recognize the importance of Gender, Ethical, Legal, and Social aspects in P/CVE and De-radicalization, present INDEED's developed products and tools for advancing evidence-based evaluation, policy, and practice, and gather opinions on the GELSA assessment from key legal practitioners and stakeholders. The program included an opening presentation on the importance of GELSA in INDEED's results and the field of P/CVE and De-radicalization, followed by a presentation of the INDEED online repository of Studies on Risk and Protective Factors. The final segment was a participant discussion on recommendations regarding GELSA acceptance and completion of the questionnaire.

7.2.16 INDEED 2nd Focus Group Meeting: E-Guidebooks, Evidence Based Evaluation Model and Evidence Based Evaluation Tool

The INDEED Focus Group Meeting on E-Guidebooks, Evidence Based Evaluation Model and Evidence Based Evaluation Tool took place on June 28, 2024. This online event focused on addressing the ethical, legal, and societal acceptance of INDEED's results. The meeting emphasised the crucial role of ethics in all project results, targeting legal practitioners and policy stakeholders in the field of P/CVE and De-radicalization. It brought together experts and evaluators to assess INDEED's achievements and products. The meeting aimed to clearly recognize the importance of Gender, Ethical, Legal, and Social aspects in P/CVE and De-radicalization, present the developed products and tools, and gather opinions on the GELSA assessment from key legal practitioners and stakeholders.

7.2.17 INDEED 3rd Focus Group Meeting: Training activities

The INDEED Focus Group Meeting on Training activities took place on June 26, 2024. This online event focused on addressing the ethical, legal, and societal acceptance of INDEED's results. The meeting emphasised the crucial role of ethics in all project results, targeting legal practitioners and policy stakeholders in the field of P/CVE and De-radicalization. It brought together experts and evaluators to assess INDEED's achievements and products. The meeting focused on the presentation of the INDEED Training activities with a discussion to gather opinions on the GELSA assessment from key legal practitioners and stakeholders.

7.2.18 INDEED 4th Focus Group Meeting: Policy recommendations and Lessons learnt & Repository of Evidence Based practices

The INDEED Focus Group Meeting on Policy recommendations and Lessons learnt & Repository of Evidence Based practices took place on September 9, 2024. This online event focused on addressing the ethical, legal, and societal acceptance of INDEED's results. The meeting emphasised the crucial role of ethics in all project results, targeting legal practitioners and policy stakeholders in the field of P/CVE and De-radicalization. It brought together experts and evaluators to assess INDEED's achievements and products. The meeting focused on the presentation of the INDEED results: Policy recommendations and Lessons learnt & Repository of Evidence Based practices with a discussion to gather opinions on the GELSA assessment from key legal practitioners and stakeholders.

7.3 NATIONAL LEVEL WORKSHOPS

INDEED organised national level workshops that aimed at promoting the co-joint discussion and know-how sharing among practitioners from different backgrounds (i.e., policy-makers, first-line practitioners, and trainers) regarding training in the field of designing and evaluating PVE / CVE / De-radicalisation and/or other crime prevention initiatives. Such an approach will allow for a more adequately tailored and adapted training programme that will, consequently, best address the end-users' needs and lacks in designing and evaluating PVE / CVE / De-radicalisation and/or other crime prevention initiatives.

National workshops in 14 different countries with 129 participants have been organised and carried out as reported in the table below:

Location	Date	Partner responsible	N. of participants
Austria	December 2022	VICESSE	4
Belgium	December 2022	LPR + VUB	10

7.4 STRATEGIC DISSEMINATION EVENTS

7.4.1 INDEED MINI-BRIEFING

The so-called INDEED Mini-Briefing dissemination event was organised on the 25th of May 2022 at the University Foundation in Brussels. The aim of the Mini-Briefing was to have practitioners and policy makers dealing with PVE/CVE and De-radicalisation field familiarise with the INDEED project, and to present the objectives and preliminary findings.

The event also focused on showcasing the portfolio of planned results as well as INDEED's Smart Hubs – practitioner networks within several EU member states – which are guided by a user-centred and co-design philosophy.

The event included:

- 3 keynote speeches of strategic stakeholders.
- 1 keynote speech of a practitioner in the field.
- Presentation of the INDEED project – its assumptions and planned results.
- First findings regarding evidence-based approaches to evaluation coming from the literature and research in PVE/CVE, De-radicalisation and other disciplines.
- SMART Hubs concept of co-creation of the project by practitioners and policymakers from and outside the consortium.

It was the first INDEED event open to stakeholders, attended by, among others, EU Counter-Terrorism Coordinator, representatives of the European Commission Prevention Radicalisation Unit, European Crime Prevention Network and European Union Agency for Law Enforcement Training CEPOL.

The summary report is available HERE.

7.4.2 The INDEED POLICY FORUM

The 2-Day INDEED International Forum was organised online on 15 & 16 November 2023 to advance the field of evidence-based evaluation and evidence-based policy and practice in PVE/CVE and De-Radicalization initiatives (programs, actions, policies, and strategies). The 1st forum brought together 230 participants, including 50 expert speakers from over 40 organizations, leading international experts, practitioners, law enforcement agencies, and civil society organisations, representatives of governments, the European Commission, the United Nations, universities, research institutes, and think tanks, and donors to facilitate multi-stakeholder discussions, exchange, learning from best practices in the field, and identifying practical recommendations to improve the use of evidence-based evaluation and evidence-based policymaking and practice in the field.

The INDEED International Forum:

- Identified the most important lessons and experiences to help improve evidence-based policy, practice, and evidence-based evaluation.
- Shared forefront lessons from the field and from research on evidence-based practice and evaluation.
- Fostered vibrant exchange and dialogue on evidence-based practice and evaluation in the field of PVE/CVE/De-radicalization and crime prevention.
- Brought together key stakeholders from local, national, EU, and international organisations to advance – together – the state of policy and practice in the field

The Forum included key-note presentations, parallel workshops/working sessions organised on key themes and several sub-topics. Partners, Government Agencies, Universities, Law Enforcement Agencies, Organizations, and Academics were invited to contribute through organising sessions, workshops, and presentations on the work they were doing in the field.

The Forum was the largest event of its kind to date, bringing together experts from Europe and internationally to share best practices, lessons, and experiences to advance the field of evidence-based evaluation in PVE/CVE/De-Radicalization and Crime Prevention programming.

Coming as it did at the end of 2023 when key INDEED results and deliverables had just recently been completed, the 2023 Forum helped to very significantly enhance INDEED's visibility in the field and foster engagement with key agencies, institutions and stakeholders beyond those which had been previously reached. This provided a major foundation for later developments – including the INDEED trainings and further promotion and uptake of INDEED deliverables – through 2024.

A summary report was published and includes the findings, recommendations, and outcomes stemming from the 19 Forum sessions.

The Forum sessions demonstrate some of the efforts and extraordinary work that is being done to bring the field forward, to make it more inclusive, more participatory, to develop empowerment-based approaches to evaluation in which stakeholders, practitioners and communities are directly engaged in making sense of and understanding evidence and working to improve upon policy and practice.

The Forum was designed to encourage partnerships, offering collaborators the chance to endorse the event, speak, or propose session topics. The agenda was co-created through a collaborative process, featuring dedicated sessions developed with organizations like UNOCT, UNODC, GCERF, Hedaya, EUCPN, ICCT, PrEVAL, RUSI, and others.

A key strategy was to build synergies with other projects and organizations, enhancing promotion and visibility by leveraging shared networks. This broadened the event's reach and amplified its communication impact. Post-event follow-up was integral, with Forum content used in reports, webinars, and podcasts. Continuous feedback from stakeholders was gathered through surveys and debrief sessions to refine future events and better meet stakeholder needs.

Networking and community-building were central to the Forum's objectives. Tools like AirMeet facilitated discussions, resource sharing, and ongoing collaboration during and after the event. This focus on engagement not only extended the Forum's impact but also helped establish lasting connections among participants, ensuring that the knowledge generated could continue to benefit the broader PVE/CVE community.

The promotion of the 1st Policy and Practitioners Forum was designed to generate excitement and engagement around individual sessions and speakers. Each session was highlighted through dedicated teasers, while short bios and speaker cards were created to spotlight key speakers. These promotional materials were strategically disseminated to attract attention to specific sessions and experts.

Speaker biographies were carefully curated and made accessible through AirMeet, the platform used to host the Forum, ensuring participants could easily familiarize themselves with the expertise and background of each speaker, fostering deeper engagement with the event.

The communication and dissemination of the event included a dedicated webpage available here, which contains a description of the event, the report, a breakdown of the numbers of the event (sessions, speakers, and contributing organisations), the speakers' cards, the partner logos and a section dedicated to the 19 sessions recordings.

In addition, the event was promoted through a dedicated plan which included social media posts, news articles, special newsletters, speakers' cards and an event page on LinkedIn. The event promotion has been done together with the help of partners, who have reposted the event with their organisations' social media.

During the event a live tweeting has been conducted, which have fostered a total of 60 posts on Twitter/X and LinkedIn.

The graphic material produced included:

- Single speakers card template
- Multiple speakers card template
- Save the date banner (social media and email)
- Social media and email banners
- Webpage mock-up

7.4.3 INDEED Final Event and 2nd International Policy & Practitioners Forum

The INDEED Final Event and 2nd International Policy and Practitioners Forum, that took place on the 11th, 12th and 13th of September 2024 in Warsaw, was a significant gathering focused on advancing evidence-based policy, practice, and evaluation in the fields of Prevention of Violent Extremism (PVE), De-radicalization, and Crime Prevention.

Key highlights of the event included:

- Sharing of INDEED Project Results: The event presented the key findings and outcomes of the INDEED project, demonstrating how they can be applied to improve practical interventions and policies.

- Collaboration and Networking: It brought together a diverse group of stakeholders, including practitioners, policymakers, academics, experts, and evaluators, fostering collaboration and knowledge exchange.
- Discussion of Key Issues: Participants discussed current challenges and innovations in the field, exploring ways to enhance evidence-based approaches.
- Shaping the Future: The event aimed to contribute to the development of future directions for evidence-based evaluation, policy, and practice in Europe.

Overall, the INDEED Final Event was a valuable platform for sharing knowledge, building partnerships, and driving progress in the areas of PVE, De-radicalization, and Crime Prevention.

The communication and dissemination of the event included a dedicated webpage available here, which contains a description of the event, a breakdown of the numbers of the event (sessions, speakers, and contributing organisations), the speakers' cards, the confirmed stands, and the partner logos.

In addition, the event was promoted through a dedicated plan which included social media posts, news articles, special newsletters, speakers' cards, carousels

All the materials in the event kit were recreated with customised colours and design to identify and differentiate the event from the others (please refer to the "Event kit" section for more details).

In addition, PPHS has developed and implemented other materials and activities specifically for the Final Event:

- Photo booth
- Practical guide for participants
- Ad-hoc gadgets
- Posters developed with the social media card campaigns that were created during the project
- Projects and initiatives stand
- Banners

Below some pictures illustrate these materials at the Final Event venue:

7.5 INDEED TRAINING EVENTS PROMOTION

A comprehensive call for applications was developed and disseminated for the training iterations in Madrid and Bremen, along with an Expression of Interest campaign to recruit participants for the INDEED Training of Trainers in Cluj-Napoca (T5.5), in December 2023, aiming to attract a diverse range of participants from various sectors working in PVE/CVE/De-Radicalisation.

The recruitment efforts were widely promoted through multiple channels, including INDEED Consortium partners, the INDEED Smart Hubs, and a robust outreach campaign leveraging social media platforms, the INDEED project website, and the extensive emailing lists and networks of INDEED partners. This multi-faceted approach ensured broad visibility and encouraged engagement from key stakeholders across the fields of PVE, CVE, and De-radicalisation.

As part of the during and post-training activities, we developed video testimonials featuring participants from the Bremen and Madrid sessions, providing first-hand insights into their experiences and the impact of the training. Additionally, videoclips were produced showcasing key moments from all training iterations, including the sessions in Bremen, Madrid, and the INDEED Training of Trainers (ToT) in Cluj-Napoca.

These video materials were strategically promoted and disseminated across various platforms, including social media channels such as Facebook and LinkedIn, to maximize outreach and visibility. This multimedia approach not only highlighted the success of the training programs but also reinforced the INDEED project's commitment to knowledge-sharing and community engagement within the PVE, CVE, and De-radicalisation sectors.

For the cascade trainings, which serve as national adaptations of the international training programs conducted in Bremen and Madrid, a comprehensive support package was developed to assist trainers and cascade organizers. This package included a variety of promotional materials, such as custom banners, social media cards, designed specifically for trainers to facilitate the promotion of their local trainings across social media platforms and other outreach channels.

To ensure maximum visibility, the cascade trainings were actively promoted both before, during and after the events, with regular posts that featured photos and highlights from the training sessions. Additionally, local partners played a pivotal role by disseminating information about the trainings to SMART Hub members and their broader networks, while agencies requesting the trainings, such as CIVPOL and ICCT, helped by circulating details to their internal staff.

When requested, the INDEED project team also supported the dissemination efforts, leveraging their own channels to amplify reach and ensure the cascade trainings attracted the attention of relevant practitioners and policymakers. This collaborative promotion not only helped showcase the effectiveness of the training programs but also enhanced engagement from national stakeholders, further extending the impact of the INDEED project. Please see below examples of the promotion and dissemination of the Romanian cascade training:

7.6 PROMOTION OF EXTERNAL EVENTS

On the website, in the events section, both internal and external events are promoted. Moreover, similar projects and initiatives in the field of radicalisation, crime prevention and evaluation, have the opportunity to promote their events on the INDEED website. The possibility of promoting external events has also been highlighted in the third newsletter, as shown in the image below:

7.7 INDEED DISSEMINATION ACTIVITIES BY EXTERNALS

In addition to all the mentions made by the project partners, the INDEED project has been featured in various external channels in the form of news, articles, newsletters, social media posts, etc. Hereinafter are some examples.

The INDEED project has been featured on the JUSTICE TRENDS Magazine 8th edition (<https://justice-trends.press/project-indeed/>) and 9th Edition (see page 75: <https://justice-trends.press/project-indeed/> trends.press/justice-trends-magazine-9/). Accordingly, INDEED is being promoted in JUSTICE TRENDS website in the three languages: English, Spanish and Brazilian Portuguese.

INDEED was also featured in the JUSTICE TRENDS 11th issue, dedicated to preventing radicalisation and countering violent extremism, the topic within criminal justice and security that the project falls into. Each edition of the magazine explores a key international theme that is weaved into interviews with policy and decision-makers around the world, as well as contributions by international experts branching the issue, and providing positive examples and practices across different jurisdictions.

INDEED was highlighted in the 11th edition through an article by project coordinator Dr Marzena Kordaczuk-Was, presenting the project's work and tools. Additionally, the project's focus on the need for enhancing evaluation procedures in P/CVE was part of the conclusion of the edition's Expert's Panel background article by partner Pedro Liberado, from IPS_Innovative Prison Systems. In addition, a page dedicated to presenting the project goals and the partnership was published in editions number 8, 9, 11 and 12. This page has an online version on the magazine website, in the featured projects section.

This 120-page premium publication has a bilingual (English and Spanish) print run of 2000 magazines, distributed to Ministries of Justice and prison and probation administrations around the globe, and many other international stakeholders, including law enforcement agencies, judicial bodies and research organisations. Beyond the mailing distribution list, the 11th edition was included in the Conference bags of the participants at the International Corrections and Prisons Association's Annual General Meeting and Conference 2023, organised in October 2023, in Antwerp, Belgium. The magazine has a free online version (in English, Spanish, and Portuguese) available to everyone interested in the criminal justice field with an average of around 3500 monthly visitors.

Event Recap

We are thrilled to share the success of the EU Knowledge Hub Radicalisation Prevention 2.0 event held on June 17, 2024, in Brussels! With over 150 attendees the event kicked off with inspiring opening remarks from Commissioner for Home Affairs, Ylva Johansson, and Belgian Minister of Interior, Institutional Reform and Democratic Renewal, Arnelies Verlinden.

Missed the opening remarks? No worries! Catch them here: <https://lnkd.in/dnViTMX>

The day was filled with impactful discussions across four key sessions: "Strategic Perspectives: Setting the Policy Agenda"; "Addressing the Threat Posed by Lone Actors: Understanding the Main Drivers Behind Their Behavior"; "Responding to Geopolitical Developments: Revising Security Strategies in the EU" and "The Struggle for Hearts and Minds: How to Effectively Prevent the Radicalisation of Minors".

This event provided a valuable opportunity for researchers, policymakers, and practitioners to collaborate and set the stage for the future of the EU Knowledge Hub. We were also excited to feature an exhibition table showcasing two innovative projects: INDEED and GEMS.

Stay tuned for more insights from the event and updates on the exciting developments within the EU Knowledge Hub. This is just the beginning! #SecurityEU #EUPreventionHub

INDEED was featured in the newsletter of the PrEval project, issue of September 2023, since a collaboration had been established between the two projects. The section describes the aim of the INDEED project and the common goals it has with the PrEval initiative.

Transnationalen Wissensaustausch fördern mit dem INDEED Projekt

INDEED ist eine EU-geförderte Initiative, die es sich zur Aufgabe gemacht hat, durch evidenzbasierte Forschung die Weiterentwicklung von Evaluationspraktiken und Unterstützungsangeboten in der Radikalisierungsprävention zu unterstützen. Ein zentrales Anliegen des Projekts besteht darin, die Expertise und Kapazitäten für effektive Evaluation bei Entscheidungsträgern und Fachleuten zu stärken.

Angesichts der gemeinsamen Anliegen stehen INDEED und PrEval in engem Kontakt. Unsere Erkenntnisse aus der deutschen, aber auch internationalen Evaluationslandschaft möchten wir über die deutsche Fachlandschaft hinaus teilen und so den transnationalen Wissensaustausch zu vielversprechenden Evaluationsansätzen fördern. Durch gemeinsame Ziele und im Dialog können wir mit unserer Forschung entscheidende Impulse für evidenzbasierte Evaluation in der Präventionspraxis setzen.

8. SCIENTIFIC OUTREACH

8.1 SYNERGIES

In order to maximise the impact of the project, create synergies and increase knowledge sharing, networking and mutual learning, INDEED is collaborating with 2 European funded projects: Counter and SERENY projects.

The projects agreed on the implementation of the following activities:

- Cross-referencing of each other's websites and exchange of logos to increase the number of visitors to the websites.
- Mutual visibility of the projects through social pages and Newsletters.
- Best practices sharing.
- Mutual participation, whenever possible and upon agreement, in events and relevant initiatives.
- Involvement in the INDEED SMART Hubs.

A description of the so-called sister projects is provided below.

CounteR Project - Countering Radicalisation for a Safer World.

An innovative cross-European 36-month project that supports the fight against radicalisation to prevent future terrorist attacks was launched in May 2021. The ultimate goal of the CounteR solution is to provide law enforcement agencies and Internet providers and social media platforms with an Early Warning tool to be used in the detection of potential radical content for the prevention of radicalisation spread and ultimately life-threatening terrorist attacks.

SERENY Project - Strengthening approaches for the prevention of youth radicalisation in prison and probation settings.

SERENY is a project co-funded by the European Union's Justice Programme. The 2-year project, implemented by 7 inter-sectoral Partners from 4 EUMS (Austria, Italy, Slovenia and Spain), and Albania, aims to promote the adoption of effective, reliable interventions related to the prevention of radicalisation processes among young inmates, respectful of their human rights in compliance with International, EU and CoE laws and regulations.

The projects were promoted in the 2nd newsletter, as shown in the image below.

Sister projects

CounterR Project

Countering Radicalisation for a Safer World. An innovative cross-European 36-month project that supports the fight against radicalisation to prevent future terrorist attacks was launched in May, 2021. PrEval Project - Evaluation and Quality Management in Extremism Prevention, Democracy Promotion and Civic Education: Analysis, Monitoring, Dialogue

VUB has established links with and participated in PrEval, funded by the German Federal Ministry of the Interior and Community (BMI) with a duration from October 2022 to September 2025, which is a research and transfer project that further develops and re-designs formats and structures to strengthen evaluation and quality management in extremism prevention, democracy promotion and civic education in Germany.

INDEED was mentioned in their newsletter, available here.

8.2 SCIENTIFIC PUBLICATIONS

One of the dissemination activities of the INDEED project is the publication of scientific results in peer-reviewed journals. Partners such as PPHS, VUB, UoH, CENTRIC and KEMEA have published scientific publications and presented conference papers; In total, the INDEED consortium has prepared 14 scientific publications. See the list of published/under preparation publication and submitted conference papers below:

9. MONITORING AND KPIs

In the proposal phase, INDEED had set a series of Key Performance Indicators (KPI) for dissemination and communication activities. These were monitored on a monthly basis along with all analytics from the social media channels and website. As it is possible to observe from the table below, the KPIs have achieved the set objectives, exceeding them in some cases such as number of synergies/links with other relevant H2020 projects, number of newsletter subscribers, number of unique visitors to the website (based on Google Analytics), social media followers (LinkedIn, Twitter and YouTube), number of multimedia material downloads (website) and promotional video with project results. The table shows the KPIs set and achieved for the first, second, and third year (refer to Annex 3 - KPI Table)

KPI	Year 1 foreseen	Year 1 achieved	Year 2 foreseen	Year 2 achieved	Year 3 foreseen	Year 3 achieved	Overall foreseen	Overall achieved
Number of annual dissemination events	1	1	1	1	1	1	3	3

9.1. NUMBER OF ANNUAL DISSEMINATION EVENTS

During its three years, the INDEED project has organised three annual dissemination events, one each year, therefore reaching the KPI originally set. The events are described in detail in the section 7.4 Strategic Dissemination Events, however the summary list can be found below:

Event name	Date	Location
INDEED "Mini-Briefing"	May 25, 2022	Brussels, Belgium
INDEED International Policy & Practitioners Forum	November 14-15, 2023	Online
INDEED Final Event and 2nd International Policy &	September 11-13, 2024	Warsaw, Poland

Event name	Date	Location
Practitioners Forum

9.2. NUMBER OF TRAININGS FOR PRACTITIONERS AND POLICY MAKERS (INCLUDING ONLINE AND CASCADE TRAININGS)

The Key performance indicators for the number of trainings (12) have been reached and exceeded. Below an overview:

25 Participants for the training "Designing, Implementing and Utilizing Effective Evaluation of PVE/CVE/De-Radicalisation Initiatives (policies and strategies, long-term programmes, short-term actions, and ad hoc interventions)." in Bremen.

25 Participants for the training "Designing Evidence-Based of PVE/CVE/De-Radicalisation Initiatives (policies and strategies, long-term programmes, short-term actions, and ad hoc interventions)." in Madrid.

22 participants from 11 countries for the ToT (Training of Trainers: Optional 3rd Training to be Certified as a Trainer) in Cluj-Napoca.

11 cascade trainings.

9.3. MEETINGS (INCLUDING REMOTE) WITH CIVIL SOCIETY ORGANISATIONS

The consortium partners have organised and participated in various meetings with Civil Society Organisations, both online and in presence. A comprehensive list with details can be found below:

- Security, Democracy and Cities conference in Brussels organised by Efus: INDEED had a stand during the 3 days of the conference and participated in a pitch session to present to other participants the outcomes of the project
- Role of cities in preventing radicalisation, Strong Cities, Strasbourg and Efus
- Workshop on policy recommendation in Riga, Latvia
- Smart Hub Meeting kick-off – June 2022
- National Level Workshop / Smart Hub meeting – November 2022
- In the Police Academy in Szczytno (Poland) during the conference concerning "Human resources and project management in the area of security" KWPG presented the idea of project INDEED, planning, tools, and results.
- The Ministry of Justice Bremen successfully conducted three events with Civil Society Organisations (CSOs) to present and discuss the project's objectives, methodologies, and key deliverables. These meetings, which included both in-person and remote formats, were instrumental in fostering engagement and gathering valuable feedback from diverse stakeholders. Each event provided a platform for meaningful dialogue, allowing us to refine our approach based on the insights and experiences shared by the CSOs. This active collaboration has been crucial in ensuring that the project remains aligned with the needs and expectations of the communities they aim to serve.
- Smart Hub Meeting in Cluj-Napoca – January 2024
- Smart Hub Meeting in Cluj-Napoca – February 2024
- Cluj Education Cluster Meeting – April 2024
- A study visit on dialogue, countering radicalization, and commemoration, during which workshops were conducted with the staff of the Utoya Learning Center. PPHS had the opportunity to present the INDEED project to a Polish group of NGOs participating in the visit. 3-6 June 2024; Utoya, Norway
- DBL participated in the "Human Rights Vs Security? Prevention Of Youth Radicalisation in Prison" SERENY Final Conference - 29 September 2023 - Rome, Italy

- DBL organised the Italian National Workshop in Rome, Italy on December 7, 2022
- As a leading member of the Local Smart Hub, Riga Municipal police organised or participated in Focal Point Meetings with different state institutions and meetings with civil society organisations, involved in PVE/CVE initiatives. During the meeting actual trends of radicalization in Latvia and worldwide were discussed. Also, strategies for future prevention activities were discussed in context of post pandemic radicalization, war in Ukraine, terrorist attacks and right-wing radicalization after EU Parliament elections. Riga Municipal police also supported EFUS in the organisation of Policy recommendation workshop in Riga, 12 July 2024, and presented the lessons learned of the project to the elected persons and NGOs during city council meeting 22 August 2024 for a total of six events.
- TRANSFORM presented the INDEED project at the national conference organised by the Swedish government's national CVE centre in May 2022.
- TRANSFORM presented the INDEED project at the Swedish government's national CVE centre meeting in November 2023.
- TRANSFORM organised a focus group of the representatives of Swedish authorities and NGOs on May 15th, 2024, under the methodology prepared together with the UoH. The meeting was a focus group of the representatives of Swedish authorities and NGOs.
- TRANSFORM presented INDEED at several RAN Rehabilitation meetings where European practitioners from civil society and government practitioners participated.
- The meeting was organised as part of WP3 by TRANSFORM on 15 May 2024 under the methodology prepared together with the UoH. The meeting was a focus group of the representatives of Swedish authorities and NGOs.
- Smart Hub meeting in Helsinki with different stakeholders, including CSOs. – the goal was to present the INDEED project – 04 May 2022
- Smart Hub meeting in Helsinki - with different stakeholders, including CSOs. – the goal was to present the WP3 model and collect the training needs of the Finnish stakeholders – 17.11.2022

9.4. NUMBER OF SYNERGIES/LINKS WITH OTHER RELEVANT H2020 PROJECTS

The project has established synergies and links with 13 relevant projects and initiatives in the field. The comprehensive list with links includes:

- IcARUS project
- TRIVALENT project
- Appraise project
- DECIDO project
- PrEval project
- Participation Project
- EMMA project
- IMPRODOVA project
- IMPROVE project
- A4 project
- DISRUPT project
- CounteR project
- SERENY project

9.5. NUMBER OF SCIENTIFIC PUBLICATIONS IN PEER-REVIEW JOURNALS

As of September 2024, one scientific publication has been published: Stephan Klose, Re-defining evidence-based policing, Policing: A Journal of Policy and Practice, Volume 18, 2024, paad095, <https://doi.org/10.1093/police/paad095>. However, as shown in the table in section 8.2 Scientific Publications, seven other articles are under preparation and are planned to be published within 2024. Moreover 5 conference papers at scientific conferences have been accepted.

9.6. NUMBER OF GENERAL PRESS ARTICLES PUBLISHED AT THE LOCAL/NATIONAL LEVEL

All the consortium partners (19) have at least published one press articles on their organization internal magazines or website.

9.7. NUMBER OF PRESS RELEASES DELIVERED TO TRADITIONAL MEDIA

As described in the dedicated section, the project has produced and published two press releases. The third and final press release is under preparation and will be published in October 2024. Please refer to section 6.4 Press Releases for more details.

9.8. NUMBER OF NEWSLETTER SUBSCRIBERS

The number of subscribers to the INDEED Newsletter has consistently increased over the years, reaching 524 subscribers by the end of the project, achieving the KPI. As described above, the growth has been monitored monthly.

9.9. NUMBER OF UNIQUE VISITORS TO THE WEBSITE (BASED ON GOOGLE ANALYTICS)

The number of unique visitors to the website has been monitored monthly through Google Analytics. As can be seen from the Monitoring Tables (Annex 2 - Social Media and Website Monitoring) the total number of users as of September 2024 is 11.940, therefore achieving the KPI number.

9.10. SOCIAL MEDIA FOLLOWERS (LINKEDIN, TWITTER AND YOUTUBE)

The number of social media followers has been monitored monthly through the platforms' analytics. As of September 2024, the total number of followers across platforms is 2260.

9.11. NUMBER OF REFERENCES OF INDEED IN OTHER WEBSITES

INDEED has been mentioned in a large number of external websites, for a total of 75 mentions, thanks to the consortium members' efforts. The full list of links is available below:

9.12. NUMBER OF MULTIMEDIA MATERIAL DOWNLOADS (WEBSITE)

The download of multimedia material available on the project website is monitored through the website download counter. The total number of downloads is more than 7500 for all the materials, which is a great achievement of the KPI.

9.13. BROCHURES AND LEAFLETS PRODUCED AND DISTRIBUTED

1350+ brochures and leaflets were distributed both physically and online during internal and external events.

9.14. NEWSLETTER

As described in the dedicated section, the total number of sent newsletters is 13, which exceeds the KPI that was set at 9, also thanks to the publication of special newsletters.

9.15. PROMOTIONAL VIDEO WITH PROJECT RESULTS

12 videos were produced and promoted during the project lifetime. The videos can be found in the YouTube channel, below is a list:

10. CONCLUSIONS

If the first year of the project, from a dissemination and communication point of view, was mainly characterised by the creation of the brand identity and establishment of the INDEED community (i.e. social media followers, mailing lists, SMART Hub groups, participants in the INDEED webinars), from month 12 (August 2022) to month 18 (February 2023) the project was focused on the efficient valorisation of the efforts and assets developed by the consortium, showcasing our community project insights and engagement tools, thanks also to the organisation of national level workshops and work packages centred social media campaigns.

The last year of the project was focused on the dissemination of the INDEED results through a dedicated promotion, fostered by the help of the consortium and accurate communication and dissemination activities detailed in this deliverable.

Nonetheless, the dissemination of the results will continue also after the end of the project. In fact, posts on social media have been planned until December 2024 for the promotion of the INDEED Knowledge Interviews and the INDEED Podcasts, ensuring the continuation of the audience engagement through valuable results.

The 'nexus' of INDEED communication and dissemination tools, interacting with INDEED events, has helped to foster a 'community of practice' bringing together researchers & evaluators, practitioners and policy makers in the P/CVE and Deradicalisation communities whose engagement and exposure to evidence-based evaluation has been strengthened through the INDEED project and, in particular, its C&D activities.

In terms of utilisation, the consortium efforts have been made for the significant promotion of INDEED deliverables and results through the project communication channels and tools, and engaged the audience with them, both through the INDEED webinars, video interviews and podcasts, and through the SMART Hubs. This aspect of taking the work further to foster engagement with and through utilisation is worth highlighting as an unique strength and achievement of the project.
