

TERMS OF USE OF THE INDEED PROJECT KEY EXPLOITABLE RESULTS

The Terms of Use of INDEED project results based on the Grant and Consortium Agreements outline the guidelines and principles governing the ownership, access, and exploitation of INDEED project results. These agreements ensure that all involved parties have clear and fair terms for using and benefiting from the project's outcomes, fostering a cooperative environment for innovation and development.

For each result, main and other (minor) owners were defined. The first are considered to be those who contributed significantly to the development of a given result (conceptual work, software work, content creation, etc.). The latter group includes those partners who had an input in creating a given result, but their role or effort was significantly smaller, but important from the point of view of developing the result.

The INDEED Results Terms of Use have been discussed with all results Owners to define the terms/conditions under which a potential user (another owner, INDEED Partner, non-Partner) may use a specific result. A user who would like to use the above INDEED Results, whether for further research, commercially or non-commercially, confirms that he/she accepts and complies with these terms.

To find out more how to use the INDEED results for further research, for commercial use or non-commercially, please contact the Polish Platform for Homeland Security, the INDEED project Coordinator at office@indeedproject.eu.
